LETTERS GIVE CLUE IN DOUBLE MURDER

Plan to Die Because of Wrongs Suffered in Girlhood Indicated in Missives

SUICIDE THEORY REJECTED

Special Diseases to Frening Public Ledge Stroudsburg, Pa., June 29.-Pathetic letters, indicating that Mrs. Maude Demund had planned to die because of wrongs she is said to have suffered during her girlhood days, have given a new turn to the mysterious killing of the bride of four months and her husband as they lay in bed. These letters form a strong theory of murder and suicide, but because both were shot in the back authorities are still clinging to the belief it was a touble murder. One letter was addressed to the bride's mother, Mrs. Oscar II. Mories, of Catskill, N. Y. In this she says her brother Charles was to blame for all her unbappiness. The letter was dated June 23, the day Mrs. Demund came home from a hospital, where she underwent an operation for appen-

Alleged to Have Written Slain Teacher, "We Will Be Buried Together"

GIRL'S LAST LETTER FOUND

New York, June 29 .- The Grand Jury at Mineola, L. I., will commence today to hear the evidence against William Creasy, accused of killing Miss Edith Lavoy, a young school teacher, at Freeport, L. I.

A friend of the dead girl is expected to testify Miss Lavov received a letter from Creasy, in which he wrote:

"If you marry any one else, it will not make any difference. You and I will be buried together just the same." Creasy, in his cell at the Nassau county jail, last night denied that he had written such a letter. He also commented on the fact that the officials were not in possession of the letter. nor did they claim to have it, because there never was such a letter written.

This is the letter which Miss Lavoy wrote to Davidson but a few hours before she was found dead in the boarding house at Freeport.
